References 5, 6, 7, 8, 9 are irrelevant as is much of the first paragraph of the Background. The first paragraph of the Background should be excluded or modified. Figures and tables should be cited in the text. The first 9 paragraphs of the discussion have nothing to do with the purpose of the study and should be deleted. The discussion should only be about the purposes of the work and about the results of PCR techniques. English is difficult to understand. The article must be rewritten by someone whose native language is English.
