

Reviewer Comment:

Language is still not acceptable. This paper is rather a report on the chemical composition of one food sample. Where is statistic?

Author's feedback:

Grammatical and language errors have been improved upon, however, if the editorial can still find anyone, they should not hesitate to make corrections.

I wrote to you that only one determination was conducted due to financial constraints involved in triple determinations. Quality assurance as well as precaution was taken to achieve high precision of results.

The issue of statistic cannot into play.
