FINAL EVALUATOR'S comments on revised paper (if any)	Authors' response to final evaluator's comments
Corrections are made accordingly but after going through the whole manuscript still figures are not so appropriate. In my opinion figures still needs the corrections for publication in peer reviewed journal. All the three figures are copy and pasted, there is nothing new for publication. Publications means there must be something new research findings, but after going through the manuscript it seems nothing new in it. If we see the other research papers in the same area then we are having lots of good research papers based on review articles having some more advance information as compare to this review article.	The figures were redrawn and copied and pasted. The paper is stressing the importance of bio surfactants in bioremediation process Thanks.
