Compulsory REVISION comments	None
Minor REVISION comments	No
Optional/General comments	The present research work is well done with scientific manner e.g. introduction of theme of research, setting the hypothesis, underpinning appropriate methodology, sampling and procedure towards desired results. The methodology was properly used means first send out questionnaires followed by Analysis of variance(ANOVA) among the groups (HPMP/LPMP). The findings of the stdy reveals a significant correlation between personal value and government policy of social justice. Individuals perceived less stress when personal's value is consistent with the government policy of social justice than those who were inconsistent. Thus, findings gauge insights of political stability and social development among lower socioeconomic group of people in China well discussed in the existing literature of the domain. The researcher has not mentioned about ethical consideration has been taken by him during conducting research in field and its implication on the present research.
