PART 2:

FINAL EVALUATOR'S comments on revised paper (if any)	Authors' response to final evaluator's comments
I am wondering if the correct manuscript was sent. This manuscript has all the track changes which I believe is not meant for the editor Words are joined together e.g. Vernoniaamygdalina, Cymbopogoncitratus, Vernoniaamygdalinaand. This runs through the whole of the abstract To prevent this from happening next time, please save your work in a lower version of Microsoft word (maybe 1997-2003 version The manuscript has improved but there are still typographical errors and repetitions which could have been avoided. Please check them I think acceptance of this manuscript is dragging because Authors keep presenting errors in their manuscript. I wish they could take their time and work on this manuscript once and for all. Thing that could be summarized are still in duplicates. Things that could be presented in a single table are being presented in two.	I have deleted all the track changes and done all the necessary corrections on the manuscript. I actually made the corrections of the reviewer suggestion on the original research article of the manuscript sent along by the other reviewer's suggestion; I don't know I should make the changes here also. All your suggestions have been effected on the manuscript sent from the journal title original articles. Please check.
