

'Special note from editorial office':

Thank you for submitting your revised manuscript number 2014/JAMPS/13883 (Title: Age-specific Serum Antimullerian Hormone Concentrations are Lower in Infertile Women). Our Initial Review and Screening Subcommittee (IRSS) found one similar publications of your own:

Available at following links:

(<http://www.fertstert.org/article/S0015-0282%2813%2903330-X/fulltext>)

We have found some similar parts of your manuscript with this published manuscript

- 1) Title
- 2) Fig 1a same
- 3) Abstract
- 4) Conclusion

You are kindly requested to modify the sentences (specially the above said parts) or take the reference of this published paper and send us the modified one. It will help you avoid future complication.

Only after your modification we can proceed for 'final evaluation and final decision'.

We hope you'll appreciate our strict and high publication standards, which are designed to give benefits to the authors in long run.

Answer

The publication you are referring to was an abstract of a presentation at the Pacific Coast Reproductive Society. It is common practice to publish data presented at national meetings. This manuscript has not been previously published. Nonetheless, I have

1. Changed the title
2. Redrawn Figure 1
3. Modified the abstract
4. The conclusion stands