Minor REVISION comments	According with the methodology PVD was computed from the indoor greenhouse air. Consider that PVD should be measure between indoor greenhouse air and plants, taken into account the foliar temperature of plants and considering 100% of relative humidity at the leave.	The VPD between indoor air and the plants based on the leaves temperature and relative humidity at the leaf is mentioned and listed in the manuscript
Optional/General comments	Figures 4 and 5 may be merged and reduced. Title: Consider to modified the title Hybrid, solar and biomass, system for heating greenhouse.	Figure 4 and 5 are merged and reduced.  The title is changed as suggested.
