| This paper presents a review for an important subject that is usually neglected: plasma treatment of seeds. Although all the important information is on the review, the text was not produced with appropriate language for scientific journals. Thus, I would like to suggest a final review proceeded by a researcher on this scientific matter, preferably one that is an English native speaker | All the literature cited in this review with the help of my guide and language professor of my university. Corrected Added |
