PART 2:

FINAL EVALUATOR'S comments on revised paper (if any)	Authors' response to final evaluator's comments
While the authors corrected few errors, the antimicrobial /antioxidant data is not statistically treated.	The results of the antimicrobial analyses have been statistically treated.
There is no correlation between antimicrobial and antioxidant activity. Then what is the justification of these studies.	Noted, there was a typographical error in line 165. It was supposed to be compound (IV) NOT (III). This error was corrected in line 171 where the order of the compounds' activities were highlighted.
Explanation about resistance to compounds does not have any experimental basis.	It's been explained in terms of the magnitude of the zone of inhibition.
