PART 2:

FINAL EVALUATOR'S comments on revised paper (if any)	Authors' response to final evaluator's comments
In my previous assessment I indicated the following – “This is rather a short communication than a full paper. I would suggest that the authors should re-write this as a more concise, brief report emphasizing the findings as baselines rather than conclusive findings. The message must be much simpler and presented in a lesser speculative manner”. I do not see the authors followed that advice. I do not see this new version has any changes in the length of the narrative or modifications to make this a shorter paper. I see in the manuscript that many of my comments, indicated in the previous review, have not considered either. For example my comments about “Annual family income”, “Farming experience”. “Extension contact”, etc. have been not addressed at all. The only changes I have noticed are related to my suggestions about the wording and grammar. The authors really need to spend time working in developing a smaller version of this paper, so it offers a clear and effective message of the study. At this point this is not publishable.
