

Author's feedback against editor's comment

1. The abbreviations should generally be avoided totally in the titles of articles. So, the abbreviation from the title must disappear. The title must be done: "Constraints faced by Agricultural Technology Management Agency extension functionaries of Assam, India and their suggestions to overcome them".

Author comments: The correction is done.

After the title, the Abstract must be started as: Agricultural Technology Management Agency (ATMA) extension functionaries are mainly appointed to enable the transfer.....

THEN.... The authors can be use the abbreviation (ATMA) to the rest manuscript.

Author comments: The correction is done.

2. It is important to reconstruct the abstract because after revision, the abstract has been extended.

Author comments: It's being now newly constructed.

3. The authors provide the methodology very briefly. Methodology covers only the fields of survey area and survey sample. Could be enriched with data regarding survey design and statistical analysis.

Author comments: It is done as suggested.

4. The bibliography must be enriched with much more references.

Author comments: It is enriched with 16 new references.

5. The authors are suggested to follow the instructions in the guide to authors of the journal throughout the article.

Author comments: It is done now.

6. Manuscript title: Constraints faced by ATMA extension functionaries of Assam and their suggestions to overcome them(the title must change)

Author comments: The correction is done already.
