PART 1: Review Comments

	Reviewer's comment	Author's comment (if agreed with reviewer, correct the manuscript and highlight that part in the manuscript. It is mandatory that authors should write his/her feedback here)
Compulsory REVISION comments	This is a good and interesting piece of research and is not far from being publishable. At some stage, an editor will need to edit the paper for language usage, as there are some quite small errors here and there. There should be a closer connection between the literature review and the research questions: i.e., in what ways will the research question contribute to academic knowledge? Second, the summary of the research findings acts as the discussion section, which is fine. However, the discussion should do more to connect the findings with some theoretical position. For example, how well does the model of interaction reflect transaction cost minimisation (as Coase and Williamson are used earlier)? Third, the conclusion should incorporate research limitations and suggestions for future research.	We thank the review for the complements. We have edited the manuscript for language We have redesigned the analytical framework so that the objectives of the study are more emphasised We have taken this comment into account and have added more discussion elements in the limit of the requirement of the journal about the length of the article. We made connection between the transaction cost and the short marketing channel that emerged as the results of the internal arrangements among actors We had added to the conclusion, one research limitation and suggestion for future research
