| Minor REVISION comments      | Check spelling thoroughly.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |                                                                                                                                                                               |
| Optional/General comments    | The manuscript objectives are aligned to its methodology, even though description of instrument's content is a little shallow. Statistical methods are appropriate. Discussion is deep enough and related to the main issues. The reference list is current and comprehensive. There are not major issues. |                                                                                                                                                                               |
