

Editor's Comment:

After carefully reviewing the adequations and corrections suggested by this same reviewer, and carried out by the authors in the work titled "Giant Right Liver Hemangioma associated with Kasabach-Merritt Syndrome in an Adult Patient", it is possible to perceive a clear improvement in the quality of the manuscript. So, at this moment, I recommend accepting this case report. However, once again, I suggest that all text go through a detailed review of grammar and language style before publication.
