Compulsory REVISION comments
Minor REVISION comments	This is a straightforward and clear presentation of a case of giant colonic diverticulum. Some minor points: 1) Please comment on the type of the diverticulum (Type I, II or III) described in this report. 2) The statement "Diverticular disease consists of a sac-like protrusion of the colonic wall." (Introduction, line 17) is not accurate. This is the definition of a diverticulum not of the disease (diverticulosis). 3) It would be probably good to extent the discussion a little bit by adding data from the literature regarding complications (type and rate) specific to the giant colonic diverticulum	Thank you for your kind review, please refer to comments as follows - we have added information on the type of diverticulum as highlighted in yellow in the accompanying revised paper - we have edited the statement to properly reflect the description of a diverticulum accordingly - we have added information regarding the complications specific to giant colonic diverticulum as mentioned in the Reviewer's comment
Optional/General comments
