SDI Review Form 1.6

PART 1: Editorial comment

	Editor's Comment:	Author's comment
Compulsory REVISION comments
Minor REVISION comments	This is rather interesting paper about Jatropha morphological and genetic variability. But language of the manuscript is very poor and there are number of grammatical mistakes throughout the manuscript. In many places two or three words are typed together (lines – 24, 50, 51, 55, 59, 68, 72, 128, 140, 160, 180, 182, 188, etc.) Key words are too little. You made very important conclusion about eco-geographical diversity of the accessions. In such way you have to mention eco-geographical information in Results and Discussion when you say about studied accessions.
Optional/General comments
