

I only merge the tables as suggested. The comment on references had been addressed in my previous letter to you. All other corrections effected in the previous version still stand. The latest version was included in my last memo to you.