FINAL EVALUATOR'S comments on revised paper (if any)	Authors' response to final evaluator's comments
Addition of map adds clarity to site location, size and neighbouring use of the area. English can still be poor in parts, in the version returned I have edited sentences here and there as suggestions as it is assumed English is not the author's first language. Not entirely sure why a follow up test was done following an insignificant output for ANOVA as this shows there is no significant difference between the means. I suggest changing this. Keep the list of means as this is important information, but I wouldn't refer to it as a follow up or post hoc test. With the small changes to this and the English I feel this paper is acceptable for publication.
