Compulsory REVISION comments	The manuscript is about The Physico-chemical Characteristics and Plankton Diversity of Nwaniba River. The writing is generally clear, but before being accepted for publication in this journal, the manuscript must be corrected basing on the following issues: - What is the specific purpose of this manuscript? - Why is such work useful / necessary? - What has already been done? - WHAT authors WANT TO SHOW and with what data? - Show the practical implications of the findings - Use key words different from those presented in the title - The methodology of this study must be original For these reasons, I recommend Major revisions
Minor REVISION comments
Optional/General comments
