Compulsory REVISION comments	This paper tried to investigate the indigenous people perception impact of 7 tourism and their attitudes for development support in the tribe. In this study, three indigenous 8 tribes (Shanmei, Chashan, and Xinmei) located at the south of Taiwan Alishan. It must have taken much effort to conduct the research but its contribution is not clear to readers. In specific, it should be improved in the following ways to be published. 1. comments (1) Contribution This research is based on three indigenous tribes (Shanmei, Chashan, and Xinmei) located at the south of Taiwan Alishan. It seems that the contribution of this research also lies in this sample towards tourism impact and support attitude. Readers may wonder identifying an evaluation model is the same important for different countries. That is, please discuss more about the contribution of this research and explain how the research findings can be used to give values to different culture or country. (2) Relevance Another weakness of this paper is that the research model and findings may not be specific to the in the local tribe, though it is based on data from three indigenous located at the south of Taiwan. Therefore, this paper needs to update its literature review of current empirical works on relevant industries in other countries and cases in the second section for better understanding its relevance with regard to current research. (3) Methods I have no speciic questions. (4) Theoretical and managerial implications Please extend the discussions in this paper and link them to the contribution. In this paper, the theoretical and managerial implications are linked to the empirical findings. Instead of linking to the empirical results, it is recommended to emphasize what the previous studies could not identify but this paper did.
Minor REVISION comments	2. Minor comments (1) Please provide information about 'The structure of the remainder of the paper' and 'The proposed research model 'at the end of introduction part. (2) Please update more new references and justified its importance with regard to this research. Good luck with your research!
