

Editor's Comment:

I have read through the manuscript titled The Impact of Religion and Spirituality on Literature: A Systematic Review (Ms_AJL2C_40925). I found the work a thought-provoking write-up worthy of publishing in this reputable journal. The manuscript a conceptual work (Library research) needs improvement before consideration for publication in the following aspects.

1. Methodology; the author must be explicit in explaining the methodology used in the manuscript and the rationale for choosing the methodology. As it stands now, the authors have to a great extent detailed the methods/techniques data gathering but no explanation on the methodology adopted.
2. Critical review of literature is not evidence in the manuscript. A conceptual write-up of philosophical nature like this require a deeper review of materials in dialectic manner. As such, presenting the reader with for and against argument will further enriched the manuscript.
3. A systemic review table should be included to show the flow of events in literature.

Based on the points mentioned above, the manuscript should be considered for publication after the author do the necessary modifications as suggested herein as well as the reviewers.
