PART 1: Review Comments

	Reviewer's comment	Author's comment (if agreed with reviewer, correct the manuscript and highlight that part in the manuscript. It is mandatory that authors should write his/her feedback here)
Compulsory REVISION comments	The authors have found that the serum ornithine levels were elevated in patients with Alzheimer's and Parkinson's disease as compared with control groups, and suggest the possibility that the elevated ornithine levels have a pathogenic role. There is only one result showing the elevated ornithine levels with control enzyme levels of agmatinase, ornithine decarboxylase and arginine decarboxylase. Moreover, the number of samples was as few as 35 each. Although the P values were less than 0.05, the differences were very small such as 0.14 and 0.16. Thus, the evidence (results) is much weaker to suggest the pathogenic role of ornithine. Therefore, this manuscript is not acceptable as an 'Original Research Article', but may be acceptable as a (Short Note) after revising it concisely.
Minor REVISION comments	Title should be changed. There is no evidence to show the 'effect', just seeing the phenomenon. Lines 20, 151, 152, 155: What is 'figth' ? Table 2: Use periods but not commas; e.g. 3,07±0,22 should be corrected as 3.07±0.22. Correct typos.
