PART 2:

FINAL EVALUATOR'S comments on revised paper (if any)	Authors' response to final evaluator's comments
The manuscript has been revised, but the changes and modifications are insufficient. I understand that certain information, in particular that regarding methodology, can no longer be acquired following the completion of the experiment, and certain measurements cannot be performed. However, my other important concerns included in the previous review have not been addressed. Please note that those suggestions could help improve the overall quality of the paper. The Results and Discussion section still does not contain detailed information about the morphological traits of seedlings, and the Conclusion section is rather limited and does not provide any numerical values. The advantage of the study is that the research findings can be applied in nursery practice. In my opinion, the manuscript still does not follow the correct format (maybe the stylistic, punctuation and formatting errors will be eliminated during proofreading?). It should be carefully checked for missing/extra spaces, the use of periods/commas, and degree symbols for expressing temperature; the scientific (Latin) name of species in Table 1 caption should be corrected, the text within cells in Table 2 should be justified, etc.	Respected sir, Thanks for your valuable comments and suggestion, Sir I have tried my best to correct the paper as suggested by you ,sir further if any lacunae is there I will try my best to overcome with that after valuation. Thanks. With regards
