PART 2:

FINAL EVALUATOR'S comments on revised paper (if any)	Authors' response to final evaluator's comments
The standard of English language is generally too poor. Example, the first sentence in the abstract is too long. The poor standard of English makes it difficult to understand the paper. Punctuations are missing where they are expected. I suggested in the first review that the pictures of the locations where the measurements were taken could be removed. I suggest that the author gives the paper for informal peer review for the purpose of improving the standard of English.	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1.
