

Editor's Comment:

In my view case reports are important to help management of rare cases. IGC should be considered as differential diagnosis of chronic wrist pain. Authors show Proper radiologic and histopathology investigation, evaluate the risk of fracture and surgical planning. Based on reviewers analysis I think that this case report is able to be accept.

Editor's Details:

Dr. Robert Meves
Professor, Department of Orthopedics and Traumatology, Santa Casa Scholl of Medicine, São Paulo University, Brazil