

Editorial Comments:

The paper still needs revisions, since the paper includes too many grammatical mistakes.

Grammatical mistakes are for example,

In Introduction

each regency is expected to have a base of economic development to increase public welfare that suitable with potential resources owned.

-> each regency is expected to have a base of economic development to increase public welfare that "is" suitable with potential resources owned.

Padang Panjang Regency also a place for the international event "Tour de singkarak",

-> Padang Panjang Regency "is" also a place for the international event "Tour de singkarak",

The main problem is the potential tourism sector still can not be fully utilized to support local economic development.

-> The main problem is "that" the potential tourism sector still can not be fully utilized to support local economic development.

The editor inserted "".

The authors should also explain in the section of Methodology, WHEN and HOW MANY individuals (practitioners, academics, policy makers, business and local community leaders) the authors discussed with to build the results. Readers cannot tell whether the authors exactly deduced the results based on the contemporary situation of the local community from the present paper.

Author's Feedback:

Thank you very much for your comment,

- All of grammatical mistakes have been revised
- Method used in this study is system approach which combines deductive and inductive approach. The study financed by Ministry of High Education of Republic of Indonesia, carried out in Padang Panjang Regency, West Sumatra from March-November 2016. This method experts based, there 15 experts involved (3 practitioners, 3 academics, 3 policy makers, 3 business and 3 local leader).
- Conclusions made totally based on real conditions that occur at this time and the analysis of the expert discussion. the contemporary situation of the local community has not been involved in the development of tourism sector, no tourist information system that can provide information to the public about the advantages of cultural tourism in Padang Panjang Regency; and there is no regional cooperation with surrounding area. This is actually the results of the study.
