Kindly incorporate those and get the file proofread again.	Thank you for this observation. I personally passed through suggestions highlighted in the paper. All of them were genuine. The changes made are in yellow colour. This involved the deletion of some words and inserting of some new terms that are more appropriate as per advises. The manuscript was then taken to the language editor for another round of editing. The editors' advises were incorporated and highlighted in yellow. I thank you again for your tireless advice which improved this paper.
