PART 1: Review Comments

	Reviewer's comment	Author's comment (if agreed with reviewer, correct the manuscript and highlight that part in the manuscript. It is mandatory that authors should write his/her feedback here)
Compulsory REVISION comments	At first This paper is claimed as a review and In it's title, the attention is driven to the sentence "Methodology for change". It leads our expectations to find some deeper methodological approach to reach the objectives of ensuring food security. I just recommend to the authors reconsider using the statement "Methodology" on the title. The paper brings some valuable considerations, and a framework with possibilities for changing Oil Monomania in Nigeria. But in my opinion, that does not make a robust and detailed methodology for achieving the aims of the authors in this paper.
Minor REVISION comments	1: The text suffers from some grammatical errors. Please, revise carefully before resubmitting; 2: In line 73 I missed the conceptualization of Temporary food insecurity; 3: It wold be interesting to provide a conceptualization of monomania and to enrich it with negative and also with positive points of this economic regime; 4: It's also very important to deeper explore in this review the powers and weaknesses of Nigeria framework (social, economic, political and ecological) that should affect the possibility to change regime.
Optional/General comments	The paper brings a concerning approach that probably wouldn't be the single case for Nigeria, but for many other countries with similar struggles. So, I wold suggest to the authors to make a little improvement on the tittle of the paper, in order to attract more readers. My suggestion is to make shorter titles reflecting the core content of the paper. I should suggest you the following ones, but you are free to proceed with the
