

Editor's Comment:

We have carefully analyzed the paper and the evaluation process. Many thanks to reviewers who made recommendations that helped to improve the paper.

However, at present, the paper requires two important additions:

1. All fungicides, besides the commercial name, must also be mentioned in the chemical composition. This will greatly help to understand the paper, because these plant protection products have different commercial names, from one country to another.
2. All tables must have all the abbreviations used in the tables under the table, in note.

After completing these two aspects, the paper may be accepted for publication.
