FINAL EVALUATOR'S comments on revised paper (if any)	Authors' response to final evaluator's comments
Write a separate subtitle on data analysis under the section on Materials and Methods. And indicate Model equation for data analysis, this helps readers to better understand your research. I am asking you a regression equation which has been indicated as your tool for data analysis. Hint: Viscosity may be affected by time, temperature, concentration, ... and random error. Also, check and include any possible interactions. Please you have to respond to this part. Keep consistency in writing references through-out the document and read and check language (line 61-64). Except the above comments the paper is ok.
