| I still insist the authors tell us the source of the crude oil used in this study. Certainly, there are a no of oil drilling firms in Nigeria who drill crude oils which are all named, there is no such crude oil as Nigerian light crude oil, granted laboratories of institutions have access to these crude oil samples, such laboratories should let the authors in on the precise type of light crude used and probably it's source.Nevertheless, the manuscript has been thoroughly tidied up. I must congratulate the authors for a good job there. |                                                 |
