PART 2:

FINAL EVALUATOR'S comments on revised paper (if any)	Authors' response to final evaluator's comments
Most of the issues raised have been corrected by the author but I think the references are too small for the paper to be published this renowned journal because of the comments our readers may raise. I therefore suggest that before the paper will be accepted the author should support his or her arguments with related literature to increase the number of references. In as much as I have problem with the concerned raised, the paper is well written. Thank you.
