It was found almost entirely in the document. https://www.researchgate.net/journal/0022-3395_Journal_of_Parasitology https://www.researchgate.net/profile/M_R...n=publication_detail https://www.researchgate.net/profile/M_R...n=publication_detail www.sciencedirect.com/science/article/pii/S016578369900048X	In abstract, sub headings are removed It would be better to combine both results and discussion for this modelling work since it will clear idea to the readers instead of giving separately. In view of this, both sections are combined in the MS Regarding Plagiarism There is no Plagiarism. As per research gate website, the profile of Dr. MR Boobendranath uploaded my articles only published in other journals since he was also one of the co-author for my project work. So, I have taken few points from my previous works not from other s work. If you go through the paper, you can find my name as first author as A. Balasubramanian. Hence, suspicion of plagiarism may be deleted
