| Compulsory REVISION comments | The article is too long and complicated. It needs to be corrected. My comments are given below.Introduction and Huai river basin socio-economic development are too long. It needs to be shortened.Related studies should be deleted.Non-structural approach should be shorted.Where is the ANOVA results?Statistical analysis results were not given. Results should be added. | Ok noted                                                                                                                                                                      |
