Compulsory REVISION comments
Minor REVISION comments	- Introduction Check the grammar, tenses and language. -Certain sentences are difficult to understand. Correct the language using a native English speaker. -Abstract too long -It is too long , the paragraph of ref.2, also too long	- - The paper has been given to native English speaker for editing - I don't think the abstract is too long, it falls within the standard requirement of the journal
Optional/General comments	The literature list is too limited. The paper looks interesting and valuable - I see the good – but it needs a minor revision. This manuscript will be of great usage to introduce other parts of the world.	The literature is not limited this is due to fact less work has been the done on elephant grass. This paper seeks to add new information to existing body of knowledge,
