Line 9-10: Delete repeated information “The 90:10(w/w), 80:20(w/w), 70:30(w/w), and 60:40(w/w).” Line11-13: Delete “All bread produced from the soy-wheat composite flour were compared with the 100% hard wheat bread” This information has been taken care of by the word ‘control’ used in the preceding sentence. Generally, with further effort to delete such observed repeated information and prudent use of words, the abstract length could be reduced.	The “All bread produced from the soy-wheat composite flour were compared with the 100% hard wheat bread” has been deleted. In addition, the methodology was slightly rephrased to reduce the length of the abstract.
