Bio-chem.Biophys. Res. Commun. 1988; 157: 321-329 All are amended by reviewer but check again.	Thanks for correcting the typing mistakes. word combination, is due to failure to use hyphen and fusion of sentences is due to failure to put full stop mark or not using space barwhere ever necessary. I regretfully own the responsibility for the commercial typist's mistakes, here and else where alike, which should have been checked at my end before submission of the manuscript. Sorry for the inconvenience caused. " To err is human" For instance, "of" is missing between lot word combinations... written by the reviewer(Line1). Formatting of references, appear to vary from journal to journal. For instance the formatting as used b y the author was accepted by the journal from where the reference is sought. Followed the instructions issued by this journal. Could not find instruction regarding order of name and surname to be followed as suggested by the reviewer. However the suggestion is accepted and I thank the reviewer for his assistance in this regard. Maximum number of authors permitted under instruction of this journal are six . However the tradition set by the reviewer is followed, leaving the number issue to be sorted out by journal management.
