

Editor's comments:

I am attaching the article with my comments.

Firstly, it is clear that the author did not follow the journal gridlines format, in the abstract and references.

Secondly, so many grammatical errors are there and very long sentences need to divide and rephrases.

Thirdly, the author needs to standardize the values with units for the whole article.

Authors' feedback:

- The author has made corrections in the abstract by following the journals guidelines and incorporated the aims, study design, study area, methodology, results and conclusion.
- The grammatical errors have been corrected to the later.
- The References section has been rectified according to the journal's guidelines.
- The introduction section has been formatted and referenced according to the journal's guidelines.
- Corrections have been done on long sentences.
- Values with units have been standardized in the whole document.
- The whole document have been formatted using Arial font on one column according to the journal's guidelines.
- Tables and figures have been edited to suit the journal's format.
- Acknowledgement section, Competing interests section and Authors' contributions have been added according to the Editor's recommendations.
