Thank you for the modifications, which are in line with the reviewer's suggestions. However, after revision of your manuscript, It was detected the lack of statistical analysis for result interpretation. Please include this relevant part in the results section, to support the discussion.

Author's feedback:

I have done the statistical analysis of the data collated from the evaluation of the two treatments used on the cocoyam samples and the values obtained shown significance at $p=0.05\%$ for both the nutrient and anti-nutrient analysis.
