

Editorial Comments:

The manuscript still needs improvement in the usage of English, there are several typos and grammar mistakes, the revision by an English native speaker is desirable. Authors have to include the permissions granted by the copyright holders of the images included in the manuscript, to be published in this manuscript; otherwise there will be an infringement of the current law on this matter.

Author's Feedback:

- 1) The typos and grammar mistakes are taken care of.
- 2) All illustrations/ images/ tables from other sources are deleted to avoid infringement of rights as felt. However they were included originally under 'open access publication rights agreement'

Additional redeeming changes made:

- 1) The title is cut short on the earlier comment, that it bears similarity with some cited references.
 - 2) The prevalence globally and in India was deleted for similar reasons.
 - 3) Some other editing of the material is done like deleting info on the inter relationship between neuronal and vascular degeneration of retina.
 - 4) The overall length of the article is cut by 8 pages (from 35 to 27)
 - 5) References are reduced by 6 (from 100 to 94).
 - 6) Some restructuring of the paragraphs are made.
- It is hoped that the issue is settled favorably.
