

Editor's Comment:

Although written in a simple way, the paper can be considered acceptable only after some corrections. Especially, there are still many mistakes that are likely to be eliminated after a careful reading. In addition, I suggest to the authors to substantiate with some reference the claim like the following one at the line 131 "This reduction may be due to the inhibition of cell division or cell enlargement for salt stresses". At the lines 45 and 52, the genotype term is preferable to species.
