Compulsory REVISION comments
Minor REVISION comments	The analysis is well conducted but something more is possible to do. As maternal child health also depends on the availability of health resources,for exemple have the authors assessed whether there is an increased risk of death or morbidity in Thailand in relation to the different geographical areas? In Italy the neonatal mortality is very low but in the South of Italy it is double compared to the North	Thank you so much for valuable comments. Authors added the information regarding with this comment in the manuscript with highlighted. Please refer to line 232. "The mortality rate from LBW....."
