PART 1: Review Comments

	Reviewer's comment	Author's comment (if agreed with reviewer, correct the manuscript and highlight that part in the manuscript. It is mandatory that authors should write his/her feedback here)
Compulsory REVISION comments	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>The incorrect grammar throughout this manuscript makes it nearly impossible to read. It was clearly not proofread before submission. This needs to be read and edited by someone with a better understanding of English sentence structure prior to any resubmission.</li> <li>The description of lactapin action does not match with the depiction in Figure 1. The authors report that lactapin "causes cell membrane ruptured" (rupture? Line 51) – instead it seems to be merely imbedded in or associated with the membrane. There are several available figures that better represent this apoptotic pathway and the authors should review those before revising this figure.</li> <li>What is "RL2"? Line 109. Not defined.</li> <li>The authors repeat material in section 4. Lines 101-130 are repeated as lines 131-160. What does "hormone dependent passion of the human uterine cancer" mean? Lines 184-185</li> </ul>
Minor REVISION comments	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>What does the "licking of the cytochrome" mean? Line 76</li> </ul>
Optional/General comments	This mini-review was clearly not proofread prior to submission. It is riddled with grammatical errors, contains repeated information and potentially incorrect information. It should not be accepted without signification modification and rewriting.
