Compulsory REVISION comments	The manuscript that has been sent for review is original paper regarding DIC problems in different type of leukemia in comparison to control healthy group. Although there is nothing new and advanced in this research it is original paper from author single center experience and I do recommend publication.	Thank you. As observed, this research is a single center experience carried out to emphasise the need to look out for DIC in the management of leukaemia patient in this region as inadequate facilities are available to monitor the condition (DIC).
