Minor REVISION comments	Few typographic errors Line 17. ...correct for evaluation 33...of Picture of synthesis MODAD should be attached Table 1 include percentages in brackets for the frequency Line 247 supply reference for this statement please 257-260 not relevant to your discussion for it is outside the purview of the aim 287-89 another digression from the aim, please remove 305...assumption that cannot be substantiated in the methodology....details of this technique should have been included... 309.. Patient's satisfaction was not assessed in this study. I suggest the authors limit their discussion to results. Finally a preoperative and post operative clinical picture of at least of the patient should accompany study like this. In the conclusion improvement in operating time, and distal locking time with the mastering of the technique can not be deduced correctly from this paper. The authors should provide information to buttress this assertion
