Abstract: Please rewrite/improve the first two sentences of the abstract which are not good expression in English. I think the authors want to say that GS is even rare associated with CML (the second sentence). Key words: extramedullary, NOT extrmedullary (the authors should check the language carefully) Case report, Figure2: From the revised figure 2, it is clear that Figure 2 and Figure 3 are independent images in the original manuscript. If they provide different information, then two separated legends are required for each image, otherwise one image is sufficient. Case report, Figure3: Please provide the original image (normal size), as the same as Figure 1.	Correction done in the abstract as per the reviewer's comment Language correction done in the keywords as per the reviewer's comment Two images carry same information but with different magnifications. Figure 2a part removed in the manuscript The original photo of figure 3 attached as a separate file
