Compulsory REVISION comments	Interesting data Comment #1: please comment if and how the social and political changes in Libya in the past few years have impacted on nutrition	Dear Reviewers, Firstly, thank you for your valuable comment and note. Yes, the social and political changes in Libya in the past few years have also impacted on economic level and consequently nutrition status of Libyan population and cancer patients will not be exception. Limited health resources available in low- and middle-income countries in post war era highlights the need for health service planning to focus on the subgroup of severe cases that are most likely to benefit from access to treatment. Further point, component of such inequity relates to restricted financial access to health-care services as well as well as access to high quality and verity of foods.
