The level of community education generally does not finish high school and has no skills in managing homestays, restaurants, and even no management skills in managing the business. Keywords of tourism activities not yet centered on community development are: "It's a matter of skill and society is not ready with the development of tourism; For example, in managing homestay, it should be when the tourists stay in homestay, they eat there also no other place, well ... now, if tourists stay in one homestay then eat it elsewhere, supposed to eat in homestay also. Means that homestay managers have no skills in managing professional homestay "(Government element) (309)
