Optional/General comments	In general, very good, interesting and attractive subject. The author(s) were clear in their research plan. The literature review is very good matching the title and the objectives. However, the author(s) have to add many references to strong statements or pieces of information reported in other citations to add validity. Also, all web site references must be researched to be written complete in the List of References end of article... Furthermore, the suggested objective is realized with adequate methodology. Results are explained and represented well. Good discussion and appropriate. Reference list must be reviewed carefully by adding missed web site references used inside the article... Also author must enrich it by adding the references as suggested above.
