	Reviewer's comment	Author's comment (if agreed with reviewer, correct the manuscript and highlight that part in the manuscript. It is mandatory that authors should write his/her feedback here)
Compulsory REVISION comments	Your manuscript titled " Composition, Engineering and industrial Significance of Soil Deposits along Major Highways in Ondo State, Nigeria" is in my opinion interesting, well written and nicely presented and has the potential to contribute to our understanding of the geotechnical properties and engineering signifance of soil, one of the fundamental and important processes in civil engineering. However, there are some minor issues that have to be solved before publication: 1) The paper is generally well written but somewhere there is an improper use of punctuation and other language errors (e.g. the last sentence of the first paragraph in Site Description and Geology should read thus: "The vegetation with pockets of tropical rainforest rainfall vegetation occurring"). Please, carefully revise the text correcting all these material errors. 2) Figure 1 should be modify to include an inserted map of Nigeria for orientation and referencing. 3) Concluding paragraphs are too long and most of the sentences should be moved to the discussion, leaving here only general highlights about the main findings of your work. Sentences that include references should be moved to discuss section
Minor REVISION comments	Minor punctuation and language errors
